Dear Mom + Dad.

Well how are you? Fine I hope. That's nice. I'm feeling fine except for a sore ankle! I only sprained it a week ago playing softball. It's still sore. But I don't worry

I recived your letter Friday + my report card. I was suprise you didn't say anything about it. There's nothing to explain except that I don't catch. I'm sure you don't quite understand me yet. But just wait till this summer you will see.

About working I have definitely made up my mind about it! The first thing it answers. So is the second. The second one you will see for yourself this

-4-

There's not much going on these last few days except that I'm counting everyday till the 17th.

Load of luck on your trip. I know what it means to all of us so I'll be praying for you.

Paul's picture is right on the wall where everybody can see them.

Love.
