

find your beads. It is too bad you have lost them. Because I know you liked them very much. It does seem strange that they are not found and returned to you, because your man is right on them. If you think you lose them off the convent grounds and by putting an add in the lost and found section of the local paper asked the sister to have it done and charge it to the monthly bill. And I do hope you find them

Your letters are very encouraging Dear and please us
